Yes, it is all a bit confusing to us, too. But not to worry.

So how does an angler figure out which boat is the best one for his application, particularly since so many of their boats look the same? No problem -- the folks at Crestliner have taken a cue from BoatTEST.com and have created a comparison feature on their website. It is one of the best ones we have ever seen on a site and we heartily recommend it to you. With it you should be able to find exactly what you are looking for.
